Where Passion Becomes Art

A Luminous Vision of Spirit and Unity

The moving hymn that has inspired generations

Accented "stained glass" motifs and hand-applied metallic paint enhance the sculpture's graceful elegance

The creamy ivory of the angel's gown and warm ebony tones of her skin are hand-painted

The "floating" white dove symbolizes peace and unity

Holding a great significance throughout American history, the hymn "Lift Every Voice and Sing" conveys a message as important now as it was more than a century ago. When J. Rosamond Johnson set his brother James Weldon Johnson's poem to music in 1905, its impact on giving voice to the call for racial equality was immediate and lasting. As the rallying cry for the Civil Rights Movement throughout the 20th century, the hymn has for decades held in its deep-seated roots a pledge for unity and the quest for an end to discrimination. Today, it remains an anthem of solidarity, included in church hymnals and songbooks of every denomination, embraced by millions for its enduring cultural influence.

Now, our master artisans proudly honor the significance and lasting importance of this influential hymn. Presenting the "Lift Every Voice" Illuminating Musical Sculpture, an exclusive new presentation from Hawthorne Village, a division of The Bradford Exchange.

Superbly handcrafted and hand-painted

Crafted of fine artists' resin to Hawthorne's highest standards, this impressively-sized sculpture—it's 8.25 inches high—features a striking image of divine grace and elegance. With open wings and arms outstretched towards the heavens, a fully-sculpted angel extends a hand towards a "floating" white dove, a symbolic gesture of unity and peace. The creamy ivory and violet hues of her flowing gown and the warm ebony tones of her skin are meticulously hand-painted. Both are set before a low relief sculpt of a church accented with "stained-glass" motifs, from which a celestial glow emanates with the use of LED lighting. Topping the humble church is a cross shimmering with hand-applied golden metallic paint. Enhancing the sculpture's symbolic tone of peace and harmony, a recording of the full "Lift Every Voice and Sing" plays at the touch of a button. As the perfect finishing touch, the exquisite presentation rests on a base adorned with the hymn's title.
